Revd Miri Keen writes...

June is a month of change for many people. For some this is a time of opportunity and excitement with young people who left school last month starting jobs, or couples who have been planning for months, or even years, enjoying a beautiful summer wedding.

Julie Howell, our Curate-to-be, is looking forward to becoming a Priest in a special service in Oxford. These changes are positive 'next steps' where we see an open road rising up towards a sunlit horizon and our journey through life feels good and purposeful. However for others the changes we are currently experiencing are not always welcome, or easy to live with. Not all young people have a job to go to and the loneliness of unemployment is a poor trade for the companionship of school.

Mums and Dads may look at School Prom photos and feel extremely proud of their grown-up sons and daughters, but they are conscious that a precious time in their own life has ended and they are not sure what will come next. For those taking GCSE, A' level or university exams there is a real question mark over the future if a job offer or course requires certain grades. In these situations the road ahead turns a blind corner, or is shadowy and dark.

God showed his love for us by sending Jesus to earth and he showed his power to transform even the darkest of situations by raising Jesus to life. In times of change God's promises are particularly precious because they remind us that wherever we are on our journey, and whatever the future holds, we are not lost or alone: he is with us.

'Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or terrified ... for the LORD your God goes with you; he will never leave you nor forsake you.'

Downland Gardening Club

Members who came to the meeting in Leckhampstead Village Hall on Monday 20th May were treated to an entertaining talk by the speaker, Jaye Windmill describing the long distance walk she and her husband had undertaken from Lands End to John O'Groats, illustrated with photographs taken along their route she brought alive the pleasures and pain experienced along the way. With fantastic scenery, varying weather, great bed and breakfasts, hills climbed and several pairs of boots worn out there was no doubt that they had found it a very worthwhile trek.

Next month on the afternoon of 17th June we plan to go to Buscot Park to see the gardens, sharing transport. This is a National Trust Property. Please contact Lea or myself for arrangements.

There is also the outing to West Dean Gardens with Chieveley Gardening Club on Saturday 29th June. Again please contact Lea if you have not already done so if you are interested in going.

Home-Start Volunteering Opportunities

As I am sure you are aware, Home-Start West Berkshire supports families with young children with difficulties such as isolation, poverty, mental health and physical illness. We can only continue to do this work through the amazing support of our volunteers. Home-Start West Berkshire has a growing list of families waiting for support. Due to the level of demand we are running an additional training course to recruit more volunteers to meet the need. Our volunteers, parents themselves, become a trusted friend and mentor to the family, offer support, guidance and practical assistance to parents experiencing hardship.

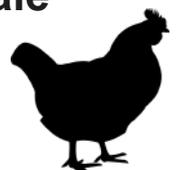

We are looking for volunteers who can spare 3 hours a week and who are organized, calm and caring. The next training course runs from Monday 17th June for 6 consecutive Mondays from 9.30-14.30pm. If you are interested or would you like to discuss this further please contact us now on 01635 760310 or email office@home-startwb.org.uk More information on our charity and becoming a volunteer can be found on our website: www.home-startwestberks.org.uk

Patient Participation Group

Notes of meeting held on 13th May 2019 at The Surgery, Chieveley

Dr Cave the Practice Leader introduced everyone and then informed us that the new Primary Care Network was about to start (15th May 2019). The Downlands has now amalgamated with Eastfield and Strawberry Hill in Newbury. This gives a combined total of 46,000 patients in the group and fits the Governments 30,000 - 50,000 target.

This will now ensure that the 'new' money from Government will come into the Network. In 5 years time that will be worth ~£500,000. A big plus point is that the Network will all be using the same 'software' so wherever in the Network patients are directed the doctors will have access to the patients records.

Doctor Cave explained that the new position of 'Social Prescriber' will 'signpost' patients to the correct area of expertise for their particular problem. Experience of Social Prescribers working in other Networks had led to a 28% reduction in appointments to GP's, freeing up valuable time. He mentioned that within the Network there was a practising Dermatologist whereas the Royal Berkshire Hospital had 'lost' 8 of theirs and now do not currently have any!

Regarding telephone calls to the Surgery Robert Weir the Practice Manager told us that 20% of people ring off when not getting straight through. He said the 'target' for answering calls is 3 minutes. Last month the average was 2 minutes 47 seconds so that target was being met. There are 8 lines into the Practice where there only used to one several years ago so this has helped. Robert went on to tell us that there is a 'new' website for the Downlands Practice that should be able help patients with some of their questions.

Sanjay Shah the new Pharmacist has taken up his post (1st April 2019) and has already had a positive effect on the Practice. He is very 'business oriented' and has started to make changes to the Pharmacy that will help make it run more smoothly.

New Insulation and Heating Grants for West Berkshire Residents

A new range of grants has been launched for residents who live in the West Berkshire area, to help towards the cost of boiler upgrades, full central heating, loft insulation and cavity wall insulation. Heat Berkshire has already been offering these grants in other areas of the county, and last year more than 500 Berkshire residents received a new boiler through the service.

Steve Ardagh-Walter, West Berkshire Council's Executive Member for the Environment, said: "In West Berkshire you are likely to be eligible for a grant if you are on benefits, or if your household income - after tax and after deducting your mortgage or rent and energy bills - is less than £35,000. This means that residents of poorly insulated homes, or people who have inefficient and expensive heating, may be able to save money through a grant.

"As well as helping to lower household expenditure and reduce fuel poverty, this scheme is a welcome step in reducing the district's carbon footprint, and I encourage residents who meet the qualification criteria and are looking to improve or update their home heating or insulation to apply."

Grants are available for people who own their home for boiler upgrades, first time central heating installation and insulation. Tenants and landlords of privately rented properties are also eligible for grants for central heating and insulation (regardless of the tenants' income) provided that the home has an energy performance certificate rating of A to E, however rented homes are not eligible for boiler upgrades. In many cases the works are completely free of charge, although central heating grants are likely to require a partial contribution from the property owner.

The central heating grants are available for people who currently have no heating system. This includes using open fires or plug in electric heaters, or for people who wish to switch from electric storage heaters to a full radiator heating system. Grant funding can also be provided towards the cost of a new mains gas connection or, in rural areas, the new heating system can be fuelled from bottled gas, and in some cases, by a ground source heat pump.

Residents of West Berkshire wishing to know more or looking to take advantage of these heating and insulation grants can call Heat Berkshire on 01344 515 045, or go to www.heatBerkshire.co.uk. All works are subject to survey, eligibility criteria and the total pot of funding available.

Indigenous Brewery - Awards!

Reading CAMRA Beer and Cider Festival for our Silly Moo Milk Stout.

With such outstanding competition at such a large event, encompassing Berkshire's best, this achievement is very special to us. We won this same award in 2016 for AMMO Belle American Pale Ale.....so to win this again is just fantastic.

At the same festival we were also awarded Gold in the Regional Champion Beer Of Britain judging round for both the strong bitters category (Ammo Belle APA) and Stouts category (Double Warp). These beers now go forward to the national finals held at the Great British Beer Festival and the National Winter Ales Festival in 2020.

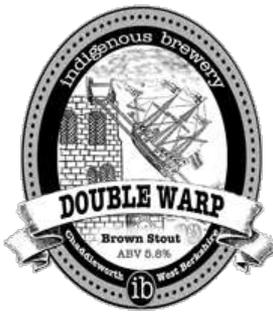

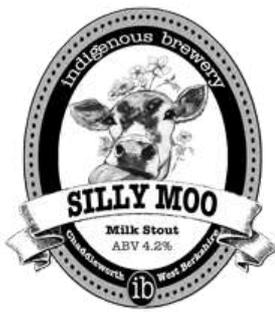

Earlier in the year our Moonstruck Porter picked up Gold at Alton Beer Festival, and then so did Chinwag Best Bitter Beer at the Newbury Racecourse Beer Festival. All from a small brewery in Chaddleworth.

We have now produced eighteen different beers to date and a list of these is available on our website www.indigenousbrewery.co.uk

If you have a local event then our beer is available for purchase in various packages ranging from 500ml bottles to 20 litre bag in boxes. Contact Kevin or Anita 01488 505060

Also find us on Twitter @indigenousbrew or Facebook @indigenousbrewery.co.uk

It's been a very successful start to 2019 at the brewery, winning 5 Gold awards already. Earlier this month we won the highly sought after "Overall Gold local beer of the festival" at the

The Berkshire Village Book

This book is produced by The Berkshire Federation of Women's Institutes. In the latest edition there is an inclusion about Chaddleworth by Grahame Murphy that villagers might like to see as follows:

Chaddleworth a sleepy Downland village of about 500 inhabitants that has been here for over 1000 years. It is mentioned in the Domesday Book and we have a plaque in St Andrews Church commemorating this fact. The church itself is very ancient and has been on the present site since at least the year 908. Points of note about the church is that it has some very attractive stained glass windows. The east facing window behind the altar is of 'splendiferous' proportions and is dedicated to Hugh 'Hugo' Cotesworth who fought in the Zulu wars. His father William and his mother Adelaide provided Chaddleworth with its Village Hall in 1873 on land given by Musgrove Lavalin Wroughton, it was referred to by the 'locals' as the 'Iron Room' as it was clad in corrugated iron. The Wroughton family are still in the parish and the current Sir Philip Wroughton was the Lord Lieutenant of Berkshire until quite recently. The First World War threw up some really interesting facts about this village. It is amazing but true that Chaddleworth in the whole of England sent the second most volunteers (as a proportion of population) to the war effort! We have in the Village Hall a photograph and a tribute to all the brave men of Chaddleworth. Also the Pearce family (and there are still some relatives living here now) sent 'a band of brothers' who were all killed (but were they)? Jack Pearce (known locally as Stocko) actually survived but was recorded as dead on the Chaddleworth War Memorial. He came back after convalescence in France and for the next 74 years he attended the Armistice Day commemoration at the Chaddleworth War Memorial with a wry smile at his supposed demise! He finally died at 99 years of age in 1992. His wife Ida died at 105 years of age so as can be seen Chaddleworth is a place to live a long life! Chaddleworth has a very active Parish Council in the whole of Berkshire to undertake a 'low cost'/ affordable housing scheme at The Glebe Field (courtesy of the Diocese of Oxford) built on land leased from them. Ten houses were built expressly for local people. A legal agreement was struck with West Berkshire Housing Association (later to become Sovereign Housing Association). Chaddleworth Parish Council has the final say on who goes into these properties. This agreement has been challenged several times by Sovereign but all to no avail. In 2007 Chaddleworth Parish Council undertook another low cost/affordable housing scheme at St Andrews Close again with the agreement of the Oxford Diocese on the final piece of available land in the village. This was for 7 affordable houses again for local people. Chaddleworth does not have a 'settlement boundary' due to an anomaly in the early nineteen eighties. So no new housing can be undertaken save for section S106 (low cost/ affordable ) housing.

In 2014 Chaddleworth lost its village pub The Ibex ( the only public house of that name in the UK). When opened in 1839 it was named The Star. Later it was renamed The Ibex as a 'snook' to the Wroughton family (local landowners) who frowned upon the local populace partaking of the 'demon drink'. The 'Ibex' was part of the family crest of the Wroughton family and so this was chosen as a 'coat of arms' for the pub. Mercifully The Ibex rose again in December 2016 thanks to the Parish Council who convinced both West Berks Council's Planning Committee's that this was a valuable community asset and asked for an exception to be made as a 'one off'. The Ibex that had 4 breweries in 50 years (Simonds, Courage, Moreland and finally Greene King) who spent zero on it in that time. In order to finance its thorough refurbishment the developer Mr John Castle of Letcombe Regis, Oxfordshire needed to build some accommodation. The Parish Council recognised this and 'went the extra mile' to persuade West Berkshire Council to pass the planning application that had been rejected due to the aforesaid 'settlement boundary' issue.

Chaddleworth has several Charitable Trusts some dating back to the 18th century. There is the Saunders Wynne and Coventry Educational Trust that still provides funds to support local students. The Fuel Allotment Trust that has developed into a 'hardship fund' to support local people who have 'fallen upon hard times', and the 'Village Hall Trust' that looks after the said Village Hall. This is supported by The 100 Club made up of largely; local parishioners that helps fund the maintenance and upkeep of the Village Hall.

Everyone loves a ghost story and Chaddleworth has several. Beneath 'Jasmine Cottage' in Main Street there are ( I have been in them many years ago) some tunnels were 'priest holes' when Henry the Eighth was 'sacking all the monasteries, Catholics had to hide in these tunnels. I have been told that one of the tunnels eventually leads to St Margarets Priory which is now inside RAF Welford. That would be more than a mile and I am sceptical. However I have been in St Margarets Priory at RAF Welford and there is an entrance in the cellar that has been blocked off so who knows!!! Also there is a pond long since disused and filled in on Tower Hill in which I was told a young child drowned and her ghost haunts Tower Hill. When walking up the hill from Main Street I have witnessed a feeling of very cold air when passing the said pond in warm summer weather. Do I believe it? No.

RAF Welford is in the parish of Chaddleworth and over the years many Chaddleworth residents have worked there and continue to do so. During the war USAF WACO gliders took off from RAF Welford to help free Europe. General Eisenhower and Winston Churchill were both here and there are archive photo's in RAF Welford museum. Glenn Miller the very famous American band leader is reputed to have played his very last concert at RAF Welford before he disappeared over the English Channel during World War 11. There is a very close relationship with Chaddleworth and our American 'cousins' and this continues right up to today, many Americans who served at RAF Welford come back to visit and there is an active liaison group.

There is currently an exhibition in Newbury Museum of locally found 'hoards', and as you might have guessed there is a Chaddleworth hoard. The hoard consists of 134 Roman coins dating from 268 AD-402 AD. They were found in 2010 by Alistair Cooper who farms at Manor Farm formally (in 1840) Butlers Farm. They were all found within a small area and this plus their dates, suggest they are a single hoard. The coins are copper alloy, of low value, and were probably the savings of a relatively poor man or woman. The earlier coins were very worn, showing they had been in circulation for a very long time.

The date of the newest coin-402 AD- coincides exactly with the last issue of bronze coins sent to Britain from Rome. Roman rule in Britain officially ended in AD 410, but even before this date the urban economy was breaking down and money, particularly low value coins such as this hoard, was ceasing to have any real value. Many hoards date from this period, possibly hidden in the hope that things would improve and the coins have value again.
